From the long line of spray
Where the sea meets the moon-blanched land,
Listen! You can hear the grating roar
Of pebbles which the waves draw back, and fling,
At their return, up the high strand,
Begin, and cease, and then again begin,
With tremulous cadence slow, and bring
The eternal note of sadness in.

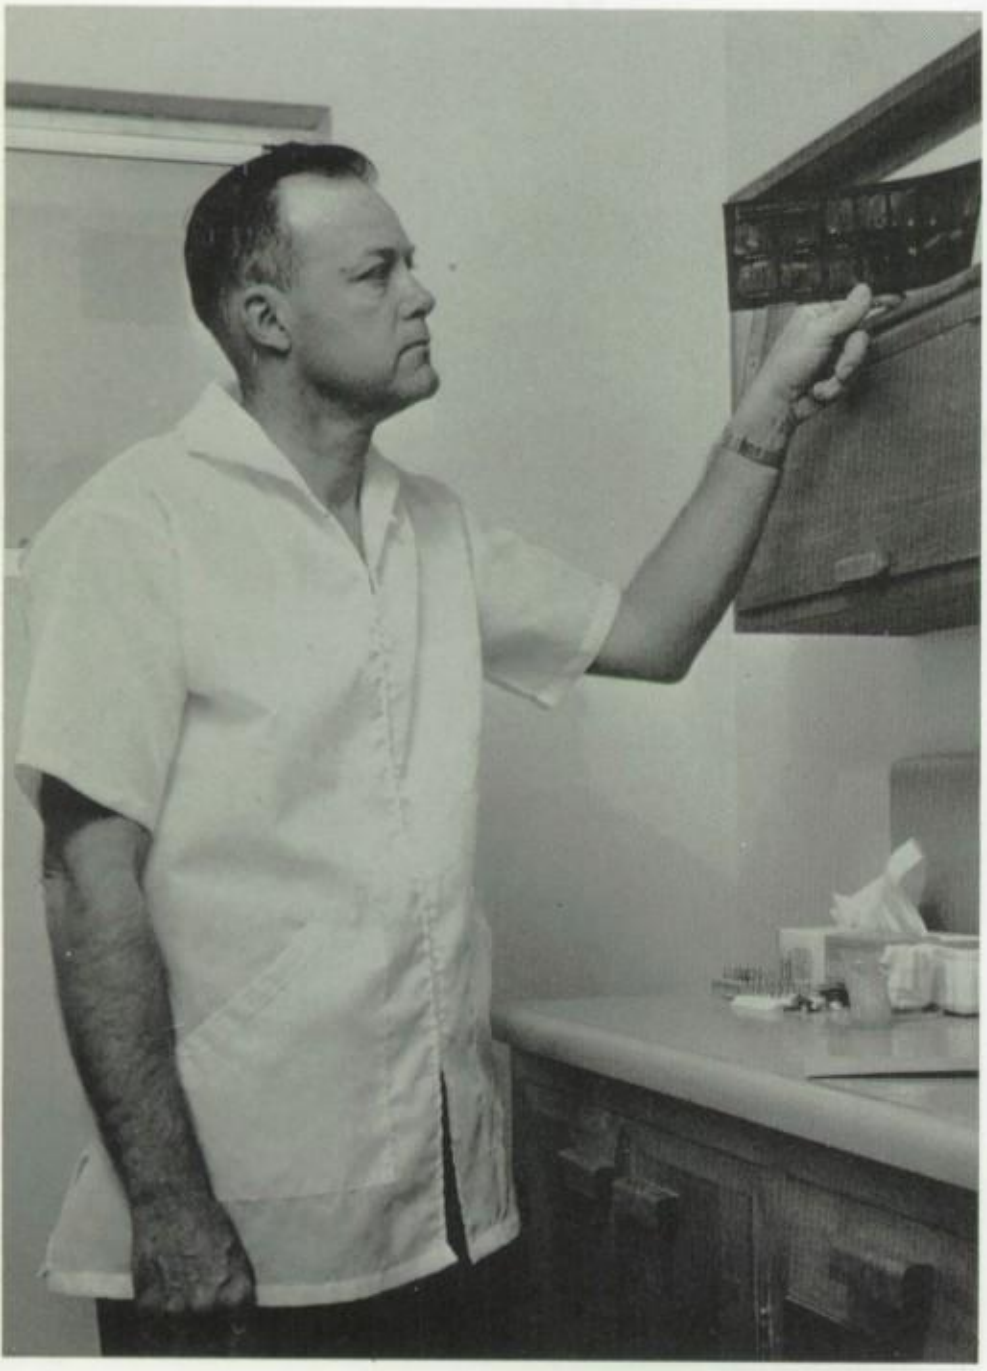
Board Members Take Time From Busy Careers to See That Nordhoff

Dr. M. L. Strohbehn, Mr. P. K. Hall, Dr. Richard Glenn, Dr. John Bee and Mr. John Ueltschi take a moment from the rigors of budget-balancing.



Dr. Strohbehn checks a set of dental x-rays.

Each member of the Board of Trustees has given much of his time and effort to solving the problems of the Nordhoff High School District. Dr. Richard Glenn, this year's president, presided over the twice-monthly meetings. Dr. John Bee, P. K. Hall, Dr. M. L. Strohbehn, and John Ueltschi comprise the remainder of the Board.

"The main goals of the Board this year are to improve the quality of instruction and provide adequate facilities for both senior and junior high," says Dr. Glenn. He adds that it is "the continuing job of the Board of Trustees to make Nordhoff a happy place in which to attend school."

Is Run Efficiently

Dr. Richard Glenn lectures to his evening classes, Engineering Statics, at Ventura College.

Dr. Bee examines "patient."

Dr. Shea proves a point.

Dr. John T. Shea, superintendent of Nordhoff High School District, was born in 1917. He attended high school in Hartford, Connecticut, where his favorite activity at the time was athletics—and no wonder: he was a three-year letterman and captain of the football team, winning "all state" honors in that sport.

After graduation he attended Loyola University, Los Angeles, for three years after which time he transferred to the University of Southern California, where he majored in English and education. At USC he completed his graduate work in education, and received his master's degree and secondary teaching credential before going into the United States Navy as an ensign.

During the war he spent four years in the Navy, serving in the South Pacific and attaining the rank of lieutenant.

Superintendent Shea began his teaching career in Inglewood, California. He taught in the Los Angeles City schools for seven years as football coach, physical education and English teacher. At the same time that he taught philosophy and psychology at Compton Junior College, Dr. Shea served as vice-principal in Torrance. In 1956 he became assistant superintendent in Indio, California, later serving four years as superintendent there. He received his doctorate in 1958, majoring in administration, minoring in philosophy.

Dr. Shea's wife Betty was an art teacher before marriage in 1947; they have three children, two of whom attend Matilija Junior High.

Although his job as superintendent keeps him very busy, he still finds time to devote to golf, discussion of the "Great Books," and writing for education magazines and journals.

Dr. Shea finds that he misses the excitement of the classroom and hopes later to spend a few more years as a university instructor of philosophy, psychology, and educational administration. He has his own views on education: "Far too many students throw away their opportunities for self-advancement by just 'sitting-in' on classes. If an individual doesn't become a 'self-starter' in high school, there will be few, if any, opportunities available to him after graduation — if he graduates. Freedom is a personal achievement, and the more skills an individual acquires the more freedom he has."

Nordhoff Administrators Believe All Work and No Play Makes John a Dull Boy

With twenty-four years of experience on campus, our principal, Mr. John R. Taylor, probably knows more about Nordhoff than all of us put together.

Young John, a native of Scotland, was brought to Vancouver, British Columbia, by his parents at the age of four. In 1926 he graduated from Prince of Wales High.

Among his favorite school subjects were English and history, but his skill in drafting led him to consider an architectural career; he spent his spare time with his hobbies—stamp collecting and golfing.

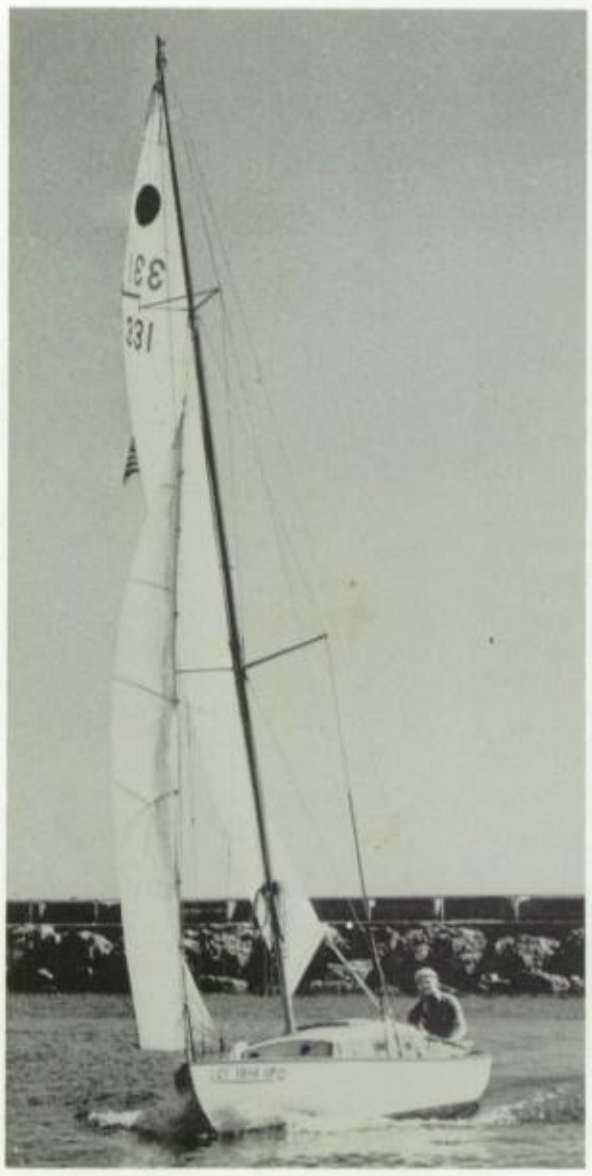
While working his way through the University of British Columbia, where he prepared to become an educator, he somehow found time to participate in debating and dramatics. Mr. Taylor took his bachelor's degree in English and history, graduating in 1931, and then attended the University of Southern California where he received his master's degree and secondary teaching credential. Two years later, in 1939, he became a member of the Nordhoff teaching staff, acting also as Dean of Boys. During his long tenure with the District, Mr. Taylor has taught a wide range of subjects.

In 1955 he became the first principal of Matilija, but returned to Nordhoff the next year as principal, in which capacity he has served ever since.

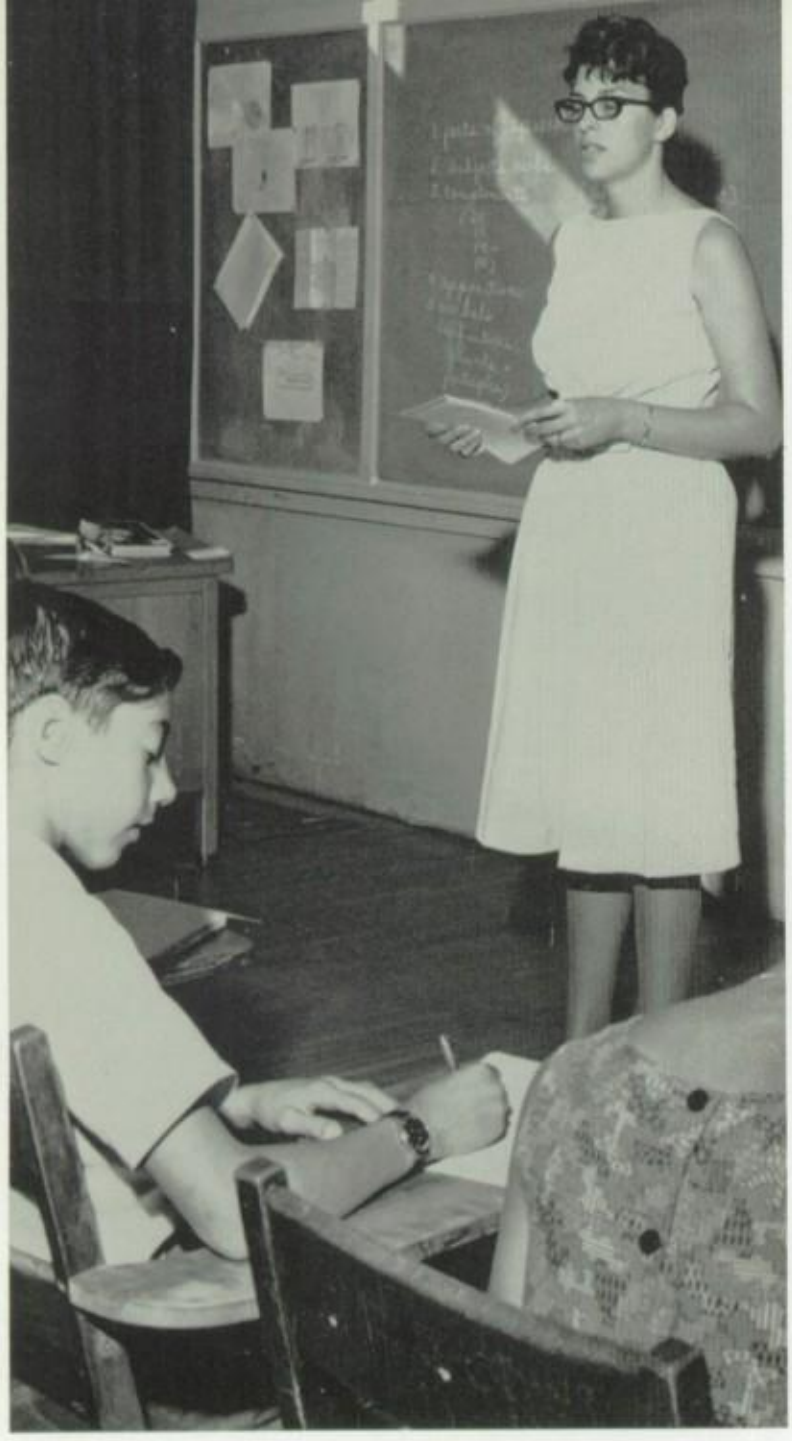
Besides running a school, our principal enjoys golf and photography; his favorite extracurricular activity, however, is sailing; in fact he is Commander of the Santa Barbara Power Squadron.

Mr. Taylor, a favorite on campus with his winning smile and understanding manner, has seen thousands of students come and go, but he himself intends to stay, for in his opinion, "We have a darn good school!"

Principal Taylor welcomes parents back to school October 8.



Ahoy there, Skipper! Mr. Taylor sails his sloop, the Socorro, in Santa Barbara Harbor.



Mrs. Sharon Berg impresses Robert Burlington and other students with the importance of knowing basic English skills.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sweetser enjoys a language recording in her Spanish III class with budding linguists Len Dollar and Sharon Clark.

In this increasingly technical age a basic knowledge of the laws governing the universe and the ability to apply that knowledge to specific situations are necessary for success in more and more career areas. At Nordhoff geology, biology, chemistry, physics, and science problems are offered to students as introductory courses to the sciences and to the world which science serves.

Music and singing to lift the heart, and the joy of creating a work of art—these are student needs fulfilled by the Fine Arts Department. Mr. Kaiser provided the finishing touches as the choir once again maintained its high standards set in past years. Under the direction of Harley Sandberg, the band played for all our home football games, and the orchestra presented a special Christmas program at a pre-holiday assembly.

Joining our faculty this year, Mrs. Pearl Lieber arranged for the decoration of the school library with student artwork. In addition, members of the art classes displayed some of their best productions in the Ventura County Library, Ventura, from February 1 to February 29.

The ability to work and create with one's hands is not likely to be underestimated by the students who have taken manual arts classes at Nordhoff. The skills learned in these courses can lead to both successful vocations and interesting hobbies. Under the direction of Mr. Ralph Williams, Mr. Roy Strader, Mr. Earl Cumpiano, and Miss Polly Powell, pupils learn to handle wood and metal, grasp the fundamentals of mechanical drawing, printing, home repair, and home economics.

a Word to the Wise

Playing a vital role in school life, the counselors see to it that each individual student receives guidance on the special problems he encounters in high school life. Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, Mrs. Augusta Hatch, Mrs. Blair LaRue and Mr. Herb Smith handle scheduling, testing, grading, and advising of students with respect to opportunities in the vocational fields and in higher education.

Dean of Boys John Milroy and Dean of Girls Maxine Tempske shoulder a variety of responsibilities and handle the unpleasant but necessary tasks associated with student observance of school regulations. Dean Tempske has presented assemblies of special interest to girls and this year promoted the idea of a Girls' Advisory Board. Dean Milroy serves as advisor to the Student Council and instructs the General State Requirements class.

Office Staff: Just Plain Indispensable

Three busy ladies momentarily corralled: District Office personnel Mrs. Joyce Jager, Mrs. Marion Nydegger, and Mrs. Genevieve McKeefery.

"Aren't they coming?" smiles Mrs. Frances Barclay as Mrs. Lee Worley and Mrs. Jackie Johnson give the stat sheet a once-over.

Purchasing new books, maintaining old ones in good condition, and keeping the library well-organized are a few of Mrs. Deen Goforth's duties as Librarian.

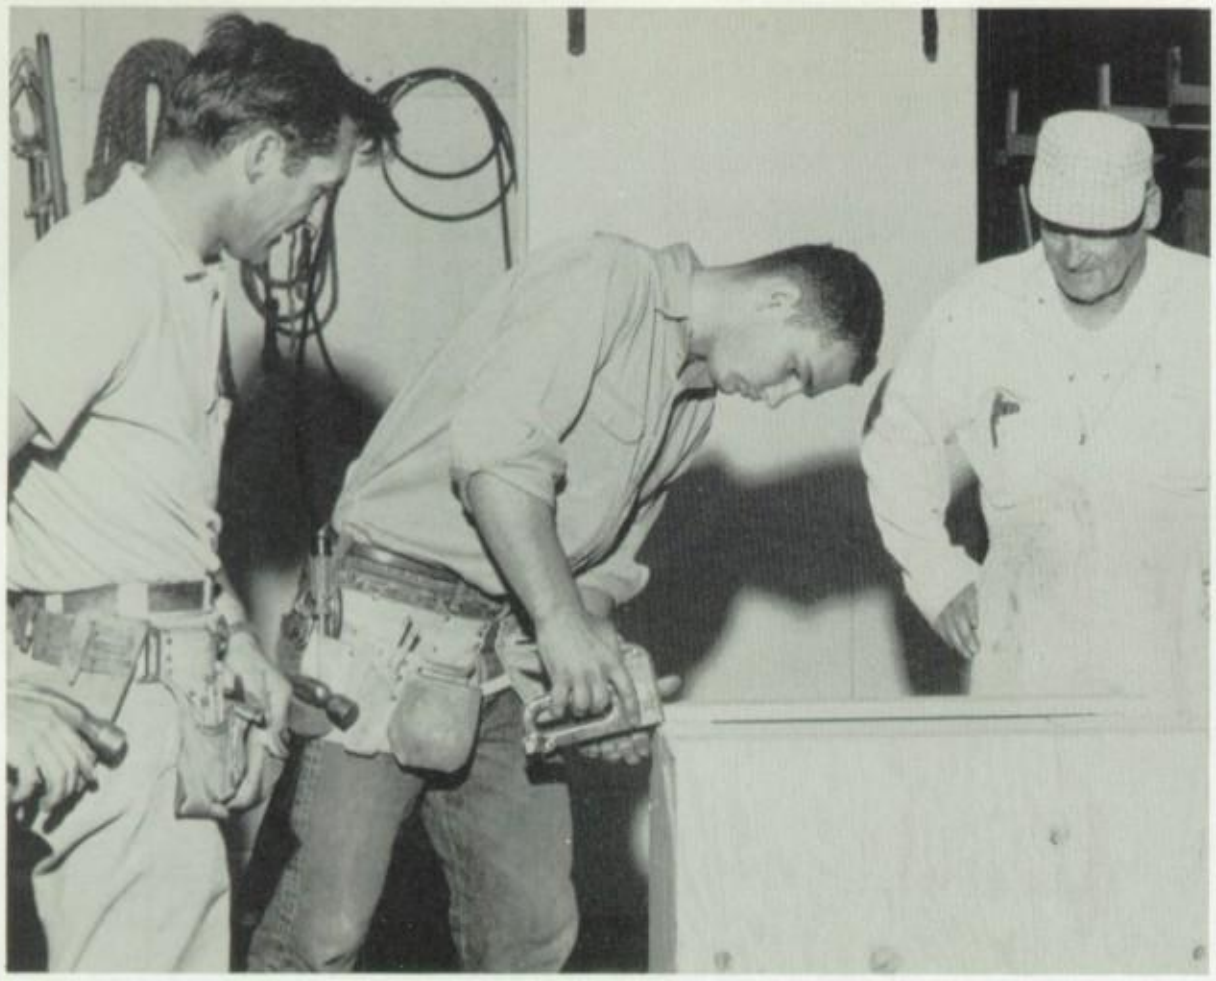
Mrs. Maureen Waggoner in her role as Health Coordinator (school nurse, to you) lends a sympathetic ear, and, with a deft touch, dispenses medical aid to ailing Nordhoffians.

The wheels at Nordhoff revolve smoothly due largely to the efforts of our efficient District Office staff: Mesdames Genevieve McKeefery, Marion Nydegger, Joyce Jaeger, and Messrs. Robert Heller and Earl Cumpiano.

The main office is staffed by Mrs. Frances Barclay, secretary to Principal Taylor, and Mrs. Lee Worley, who handles attendance records — Nordhoff's vital statistics.

One of the busiest secretaries was Mrs. Jacqueline Johnson, counseling secretary, who was replaced in March by Mrs. Shila Wardoll.

"I think you'll live," Nurse Maureen Waggoner reassures Jim Loughman.



Mr. Gene Coker demonstrates to Mr. George Lanning and Mr. Marvin Stilts how he tackles a job.

Cooks Alberta Smith, Lucretia Abbey, and Beverly Klocke spend many hours preparing the wholesome fare served in the cafeteria. That the lunch room is so crowded each noon is proof that the food is delicious as well as nourishing.

Nordhoff's rustic campus is kept neat by its maintenance staff: Robert Donwen, Jim Harris, Fred DeLeon, Bill Valk, Arthur Downey, John Carney, and Raymond McKeefery, while bus mechanic Russel Harrison makes sure the vehicles are in tip-top condition. Whether behind the scenes, or at the wheel this skilled crew insures that Norhoff is a fine place to attend school.

"If that thing'll hold another gallon I'll eat my hat!" Here's a fill-up that commands close attention from Mr. Bob Donwen, Mr. Jim Harris, and Mr. Raymond McKeefery.

(What's this about poker)? Steady there, Bill . . . (Yes, sir, when Mr. Valk sets to, things really fly.)

Shell-Shockers

"And I don't mean maybe, Mr. Milroy!"
(Sssh — we don't really know, but we think it's Bill White.)

"And Mrs. Murphy had the nerve to say it wasn't broken!" laments Mr. McKee's daughter Pam.

"Mrs. Llwellyn, you didn't LOSE it!" groans Larry Kennedy.

"Don't you dare throw that book at me, Mr. Landon!" screeches Susan Williams.

A.S.B. OFFICERS: Junior Executives

Nordhoff's alert ASB officers have done well this year.

President Rufus Hubler led Nordhoff into an eventful year. Handy with the gavel and sporting an ever-bright sense of humor, President Hubler helped establish the system whereby, paradoxically, Nordhoff litter-ates could be sent before the student council for punishment.

Vice-president John Gearhart likewise did an exceptional job but had to leave Nordhoff at the end of November. John's family moved and he finished his senior year in the high school at Grant's Pass, Oregon.

Taking over the vacated vice-presidency, Selby Smith teamed up with Rufus and together they planned and executed the highly successful ASL Conference.

Upholding the distaff side, ASB Secretary Judy Campanaro efficiently recorded the activities of the student council and promptly had the minutes posted around campus.

ASB COMMISSIONERS: Backbone of Student Government

The Commissioners of the ASB are the backbone of student government. One or more of these individuals are behind every school-sponsored activity, planning and seeing to it that events run smoothly and on schedule.

Commissioner of Athletics, Gary Cuccio, supervised the Minor Sports Tournament, kept the school athletic records straight, and aided the Commissioner of Activities in the planning of Ranger Ruckus.

One of the important responsibilities of the Commissioner of Activities, Marsha Garner, was the participation in the initial planning for Homecoming. In addition, this industrous young lady handled the job of organizing the sale of food at games.

Arrangements for the exciting and well-planned ASB and class-officer elections were carried out by Sandy Asp, Commissioner of Elections. Sandra is a veteran at the job, having held the same post last year.

Judy Wilbur did an exceptional job as Commissioner of Publicity, informing the student body of all extra-curricular activities and keeping up the traditional scrapbook of school events.

Under the direction of Diane Timms, Commissioner of Rallies, NHS saw many fine rallies. Though participation was limited to a few talented individuals who appeared sometimes weekly, the range of talent was wide. Folk singing and imitations topped the popularity list with spirit-talks running a close second. Instrumental music, supplied by various campus groups, brightened the atmosphere considerably.

Bill Hayes and Joe Kielty took on the laborious job of Commissioners of Welfare. Those holding this office take care of the maintenance and setting up of all student body equipment for games, assemblies and rallies.

ASL CONVENES ON NHS CAMPUS

February 4 marked the second annual General Conference of the Association of Student Leaders to be held on the Nordhoff campus. Nine schools represented in the Conference are Bishop Garcia Diego, Carpinteria, Marymount, Nordhoff, San Marcos, Santa Barbara, Santa Ynez, Thacher and Villanova. Converging on the auditorium, the delegates registered and after a brief welcoming address by Rufus Hubler, Nordhoff ASB president, heard Bob Bollay, president of ASL, who introduced the speaker for the Conference, Mr. Howard Grass, vice-principal of William S. Hart High School. In his speech titled "You, Your School and ASL," Mr. Grass emphasized the importance and unity of ASL, and the benefits which membership in this organization can bring both the individual and the school.

The ASL Summer Conference at Rancho-Oso, held August 29-31, selected the 1963-64 project—publication in book form of all the minutes of the eight ASL section meetings for the year.

School letters are generally awarded to outstanding athletes. The Administration of Nordhoff High School grants such recognition but also believes that those students who are outstanding scholars should be accorded an equivalent honor; this it does by means of the High School Academic Letter.

Selection is based on standardized tests or those prepared by the departments and on recorded grades in subjects undertaken in high school. To receive an award in a given field, a student, in addition to getting an "A" in the subject to be tested, must maintain a citizenship record of 85% or better and achieve at least a "B" average in all subjects taken.

Other winners were Jan Farnsworth, Selby Smith—Physics; Virginia Christensen—Biology; Linda Robinson, Diana Goforth—California History and Geography; Jim Geisler, Harry Sperry—United States History; Mark Hall, Frank DeLano—American Government; Kathie Kinzie and Sandy Asp—Chemistry.

IT'S A BUSY, BUSY LIFE FOR A CSF'er

Highlighting the life of the Nordhoff CSF'er this year was the after-Easter trip to Marineland of the Pacific, following which the group took off for Hollywood and Cinerama to enjoy It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World. Under the direction of Selby Smith, president, and Miss Kiyo Fukasawa, long-time advisor, the club also sponsored the December 20 Christmas Formal.

Membership in the California Scholarship Federation is determined by semester grade points, figured as follows:

In a solid, three points are given for an "A," one for a "B"; while in certain electives one and one-half points is given for a "B."

The stiff requirements severely limit membership in CSF; Nordhoff scholars must work diligently to attain this highly-coveted goal.

STUDENT COUNCIL PROMOTES SCHOOL SPIRIT

The student council, presided over by Rufus Hubler, ASB president, and advised by Mr. John Milroy, had as its constant goal the promotion of school spirit and community interest in school affairs.

Among the projects carried out this year were the ASL Conference, the establishment of an anti-litter code, the presentation of a plan for the student parking lot (carried out by the Varsity Club), and the election on a trial basis of songleaders.

Captain Jenkins Plots Smooth Course

Officers and important guests gather at the captain's table.

Blimey, but it's a small galley for so many cooks: Jo Ellen Sarzotti, Karen Hensel, Kathy Gutierrez, and Marcy Johnson.

Under the guidance of Mrs. LaRue, Mr. Kaiser, and Mr. Mataisz, this year's sophomore class joined enthusiastically in all Nordhoff activities. Julie Wollerman reigned as sophomore princess at the November 9 Homecoming Game, and the class of '65 contributed a wagon and tricycle "Float" to the parade. Barry Jenkins worked to organize the class with the help of Secretary-Treasurer Claudia Morrow and Vice-president Jo Ellen Sarzotti. It was smooth sailing for the sophomore class this year and all look forward to an exciting junior year.

Junior Class Officers and Advisors: Mr. Landon; Daryl Coburn, secretary-treasurer; Mr. Robinson; John Robinson, president; Mr. Strader; Lynn Hollis, vice-president; Marsha Garner, class representative; Miss Fukasawa

The 1963-64 junior class school year started off with a bang! After the confusion and excitement that goes along with ordering class rings, all were thrilled when their float entry for the Homecoming parade won first prize. Lovely Marsha Garner, as Junior princess, with winsome smile and winning ways, made a big hit.

The traditional battle over the senior lawn reached an all time high; enthusiasm was at the zenith throughout the year.

Officers John Robinson, Lynn Hollis, and Daryl Coburn enlisted the aid of the entire class to help put on the spring formal, termed a huge success by all.

The class of '65 saw the end of the junior year arrive with mixed emotions; there were nostalgic feelings for the fun and adventure experienced, and eagerness for the coming senior year which all feel will be just as eventful.

Nordhoff's Rangers had what was, for them, a rough season, although they certainly were a never-say-die squad. Coached by Mr. Robert Smith and Mr. Charles Gartrell, the team ended the league with a 1-5 Tri-Valley League Record.

A combination of injuries and inexperience left the squad victory-starved until Homecoming, the second to the last game, when Nordhoff defeated Santa Ynez 26-12, November 9.

Nordhoff kicked off its 1963 football season with a 34 - 6 drop-off to a talented Thousand Oaks Squad, September 12. The lone Ranger tally came in the third quarter when quarterback Gary Cuccio completed a 69-yard pass to halfback Steve Wilson. The picture would have looked better if Joe McCabe hadn't had a TD pass called back because of a fourth-period penalty.

The second game of the year was played September 27 at Santa Paula's Jones field where the Cardinals staged a 38-0 shutout. Superior Cardinal passing and running stymied the Rangers in the second straight defeaf.

October 11, 1963, Hart High faced the Rangers in bitterly cold Newhall weather. Hart came out on top 19-7 although Nordhoff gained more yards rushing. Fullback Lew Parker did an excellent job on Hart's line, crashing through five yards at a time. In the fourth quarter, quarterback Joe McCabe connected with end Mike Lawson for a 29-yard scoring pass. The same combination teamed up for the point after.

In its second league game the Ranger squad traveled to Santa Barbara and played its best game of the season against Bishop. The Santa Barbarans however held Nordhoff off and won 6-0.

Moorpark invaded Ojai next and emerged the victor with a 31-13 score. It was the Musketeers' first win of the season as they boosted their 13-6 halftime lead with four more second-half touchdowns to seal the game.

Nordhoff's Lew Parker scored on a 15-yard first-quarter run for the Rangers' first TD; Joe McCabe put the finishing touches on a 60-yard drive as he completed a late fourth pass to halfback Gary Means for six points. Mike Lawson booted the conversion.

Carpinteria's Warriors, Nordhoff's fourth Tri-Valley League opposition proved as tough as they were in the past, winning 19-0. The sea coast boys put through two touchdowns before Nordhoff warmed up, but once the Rangers got down to business they held the Warriors scoreless for two quarters in a fine defensive effort. Nordhoff operated from a spread formation with tailback Joe McCabe completing 14 of 31 passes. Most were mere throws, good for short yardage, but the Rangers weren't able to put together a serious scoring threat until the last period when McCabe hit end Bob Larkins with a 31-yard pass to put the ball on the Warrior six. In the next play, however, Nordhoff lost the ball on a fumble.

Passing brought Nordhoff its first victory of the season as Santa Ynez's Pirates traveled all the way to Ojai only to lose 26-12 in Nordhoff's Homecoming game. The Rangers led 7-6 at halftime after quarterback Joe McCabe ranged in on end Mike Lawson for a 38-yard TD pass in the first quarter. The same pair accounted for the conversion toss. McCabe heaved two third-quarter touchdowns: one a 42-yarder to halfback Steve Wilson and the other a 20-yard flip to Lawson. The final TD came on a three-yard quarterback sneak by McCabe in the final period. Bob Larkins grabbed the successful McCabe conversion toss.

Fresh from the Santa Ynez victory Nordhoff walked into hands of CIF champ-to-be, Santa Clara. Nordhoff picked up two second period touchdowns in the 51-13 loss. Fullback Lew Parker scored the first from one yard away and Steve Wilson scored late in the period on a spectacular run when he headed for the left sidelines, then reversed his field and went on for the touchdown. Wilson probably ran 50 yards to score from the 15. Parker ran for the conversion.

At the close of the season the team got together and selected John Gearhart—Best Lineman, Most Valuable Player; Gary Means—Player with the Best Team Spirit; Lew Parker—Best Back; and Steve Wilson—Most Improved Player.

"Will they make it?" (Mr. Linkenhelt, Mr. Smith, Dr. Service)

Under the coaching of Mr. Fred Linkenhelt and Mr. Herb Smith and with a determination associated only with champions, Nordhoff's junior varsity walked off with at least a part of second place. The team rolled to a 4-2 league record and posted a 5-4 overall advantage.

After having dropped the first two contests — to Thousand Oaks, 19-7, and Santa Paula, 20-7—the Rangers walked all over Villanova's Wildcats 27-0 and went on to shut out Hart 14-0 at Newhall to even the count at 2-2.

Back in league dueling, Bishop Diego turned away Nordhoff 14-6, while Moorpark traveled to Ojai only to put the Rangers in the winning column, 33-0.

Carpinteria's Warriors threw Nordhoff for its second and final league loss in a 12-7 thriller; then, for the fourth time in the season, the Rangers blanked their opposition: Santa Ynez, 7-0. As a happy climax, in the final game of the year Nordhoff trimmed league leader Santa Clara 7-6.

Coach Fred Linkenhelt: a word to the wise is sufficient.

Rejoining the Tri-Valley League, but handicapped by the fact that not a single returning varsity letterman finished the season, the Ranger varsity basketball squad completed a hard fought season with five wins to 16 losses and a 2 and 10 league record.

Probably the most exciting game of the year was that in which the Rangers battled Simi High during a three day tournament held at the Nordhoff gym.

Put on Big Game Show

Simi won the game, 54-53, in the last ten seconds of play, but not before a thrilling fight with the home team.

After going winless through their first T-V League contests, the Rangers played an excellent game against Moorpark and won, 53-45.

A week later, cross-town rival Villanova fell victim to the Rangers, 60-45.

Gene Bower broke two school records during the last game of the season, against Carpinteria, but despite Bower's efforts, the Rangers trailed, 99-75

At the awards banquet held at the end of the season, Joe McCabe was named the most valuable player on the team. Greg Cropper received the award for the most improved player, Herman Noels the most spirited player, Gene Bower the best defensive; Bob. Larkins was named co-captain.

Later in the year, Joe McCabe and Gene Bower were given honorable mention on the All Tri-Valley League team for 1964.

Coached by Mr. Linkenhelt, the Ranger B basketball team ended its Tri-Valley League season in a tie for first place with Santa Clara High of Oxnard.

In league play the Ranger squad turned in a 9 and 3 record.

Winning two games and losing six in non-league play, the Rangers opened up their T-V schedule with a decisive victory over rival Villanova. A week later, co-title holder Santa Clara downed the Nordhoff five in a thrilling nip-and tuck-battle, 45-44.

The only other losses Nordhoff encountered were those to Carpinteria and to Santa Clara in a second-match.

Ending its season on a happy note, the B's triumphed in a hard fought 71-70 scrap with Carpinteria. In that game Ranger guard Steve Wilson broke the school B team scoring record as he hit for 33 points.

At the awards banquet at the season's end, Wilson received honors as the most valuable player on the team. Chris Sandefur was named best defensive player, Bruce Schrader the most improved player, Butch Smith, most team spirit, and Steve Wilson and Jon Cook were named co-captains.

Encouraged by a tough pre-season schedule, offering valuable training experience, and with six returning lettermen, Nordhoff netters are justifiably looking forward to adding some new merchandise to their Ranger trophy case.

Coach Dick McCombs, himself a 1954 tennis graduate of Nordhoff, finds that plenty of prospects are available so that Rangers can lay some solid plans for CIF competition this year.

The six veterans will form the core of the team: Blair Cooper, (rating number one); Larry Kennedy, Selby Smith, Gary Blake, Jim Van Arsdall and Tim Krauss. Terry Lipari, Steve Crossen, Jeff Starkweather, Rufus Hubler, John Keller and Greg Cropper are newcomers to the team.

Of the pre-season matches, Nordhoff dropped the first three: San Marcos took the Rangers' opener 6-1 with only Blair Cooper winning, 8-6, 6-0.

In their second encounter they met Thacher and again took it on the chin, 6-1. It was in this game that Blair Cooper demonstrated remarkable form in nearly upsetting Steve Ficsk, former National Doubles Champion, 4-6, 6-4, 4-6, Larry Kennedy trimmed his opponent, 8-6, 7-5.

Playing against San Marcos again, Nordhoff netmen did better than the first time and let them have it 7-0.

With runways and jumping pits repaired, Nordhoff's track teams this season held their first home meets in five years.

To stimulate interest in the sport, an inter-class track meet was held at the beginning of the season. It was the first meet of its kind at Nordhoff, and will be an annual event from now on.

The Ranger spikers are going through a build-up period this year. Even though the boys tried to the best of their ability, and their marks improved throughout the season, they lacked depth in speed. Consequently greater results were achieved by stressing team function than by emphasizing individual performance.

Mr. Ralph Williams and Mr. Herb Smith, serving as co-coaches, are seeking to build up interest in track at Nordhoff so that it may take its place beside football and basketball as an important sport.

Like the football and basketball teams, the Nordhoff varsity baseball squad competed in the Tri-Valley League this year. As this goes to press, the Rangers have played only three games. Nordhoff lost both its practice games to Santa Paula, 7-1 and 9-5, but in their league opener the Ranger nine came from behind to down cross-town rival Villanova in extra innings, 6-5.

Assuming coaching responsibilities again this year is Mr. Whit Ulrich. His job should be made easier as there are eight returning lettermen on the team—such worthies as Jim Cuthbert at first base, Steve Cook at second, Tom Evans and Gary Cuccio on the pitcher's mound, Mike Manzer and Alton Evans behind the plate, and Gary Means and Jon Cook in the outfield.

Welcome support will be provided by former JV players: Carlton Whey, short-stop; Mike Lawson, pitcher; Bob Bartholow, second base; and Jon Cook, Dan Speight ad Bob Keuser in the outfield.

Under the fine coaching of Mr. Robert Smith, this year's junior varsity baseball team started the season in a blaze of glory.

The rangers downed rival Villanova in their first Tri-Valley League game, 15-4, and then went on to defeat Carpinteria a week later, 4-1, with superb pitching by Lee Waddel and Pat McBride.

With a squad of heavy hitters, precision pitchers, and excellent fielders, the team made a strong showing.

Under the guidance of coach George Mataisz the second golf team in Nordhoff's history started off its 1964 season. The team, Nordhoff's only entry in the Frontier League, had a tough schedule of eighteen matches against Channel and Frontier League competition.

Ventura High gave the Rangers an opening loss by a 20-1 score; as the season moved on, however, Nordhoff improved and won its fifth match, 8-4, over Bishop Diego.

Vitality, spirit, and willingness to work characterize N.H.S.'s three vivacious, cheerleaders. These attractive coeds may be recognized on campus by kind words and a friendly smile for everyone.

Besides raising the spirit of the team by their indomitable spirit—win, or lose, at home or away—Vicki Morrow, Leah Edde, and Sandra Stiefel managed to energize the entire student body.

The fantastic results these girls achieved were not accidental: many hours of hard work—including a summer course at the Eleventh Annual Cheerleading School, Redlands University — were needed to perfect their style, to prepare the many skits presented, and to learn more interesting, up-to-date and, in some cases, difficult cheers.

Though handicapped by a lack of attendance at B and C games, JV Cheerleaders, Susan Branch, Sandy DeShan, Carol Farrar, and Karen Miller proved their ability by turning up with fine routines and rousing spirit.

At away-games they were the first and only rooters to arrive, sometimes cheering for the Varsity games as well as for the Junior Varsity.

Mr. Herbert N. Kaiser
Director of Nordhoff Choir

One of the most widely appreciated groups on campus is the Nordhoff Choir. Directed by Mr. Herbert Kaiser and made up of students who are genuinely interested in music and who enjoy singing, the organization participated in a number of musical events during the year.

In addition to the school's Thanksgiving and Christmas programs and the Spring Concert, the choir performed at the baccalaureate services and commencement exercises. During National Education Week they entertained parents and faculty at a program held at the school. Popular off-campus also, the group was invited to sing for the Ojai Women's League in December and later, in the spring, for both the Ojai Lion's Club and the Acacias.

The choir was organized for the purpose of encouraging among students an appreciation for good music and an interest in singing it. Preeminently directed toward development of the voices of its members, it serves also as a cultural and entertainment resource for the community.

Culmination of the year's efforts was the Ventura County Choral-music Festival, held in the Ventura High School Auditorium, February 19. Here the group gave a rendition of Robert Shaw's "Ride on, King Jesus" and Josef Hayden's "Praise We Sing to Thee," and had the opportunity to evaluate their own performance in relationship to that of nine other participating county choirs. Each of the ten sang two numbers; then, in the afternoon, all the groups were judged against an arbitrary standard and Nordhoff, as usual, did very well indeed.

Finally, Dr. James Vail of the University of Southern California directing, Johann Sebastian Bach's "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee" plus four other vocal selections were sung by the massed chorus, a body composed of eight of the choirs present.

Carol's home away from home.

February 12, ever-smiling Carol Knicely left for Fortaleza, Ceara, Brazil, under AFS auspices for a year as one of Nordhoff's exchange students. Fortaleza lies on the northern coast of the bulge of the country just a little south of the equator. Carol is living with Mr. and Mrs. Manuel de Araujos and their family of five children in a large, twenty-five room house; Mr. Araujos is in the export trade.

The school she attends is conducted entirely in Portuguese; in addition to acquiring the language Carol is sure to pick up a lot about foreign exchange—her first month's allowance consisted of 17,400 cruzieros.

Since almost all Brazilian women wear their hair long, we predict that by the time our foreign ambassador returns, her mop will have become a Sophia Loren hairdo. Maybe, too, since the climate where she is staying is pretty sultry, she'll come to prefer sleeping in a hammock.

Would you care to write Carol? Here it is:

With her shy smile and softly accented voice, Liz captured the hearts of Nordhoffians from her first day. Through her we could picture the beauty of fabled Venice, her home-city. Besides handling a stiff schedule which included English, Chemistry, and Spanish, Liz was an active choir member. She sang in her native Italian at rallies, participating in several hootenannies and included horseback riding, swimming, bowling, shopping, and dancing among her activities this year.

With many regrets we said "ciao" to our Liz in June. She returns home to continue her studies, ultimately to become a translator.

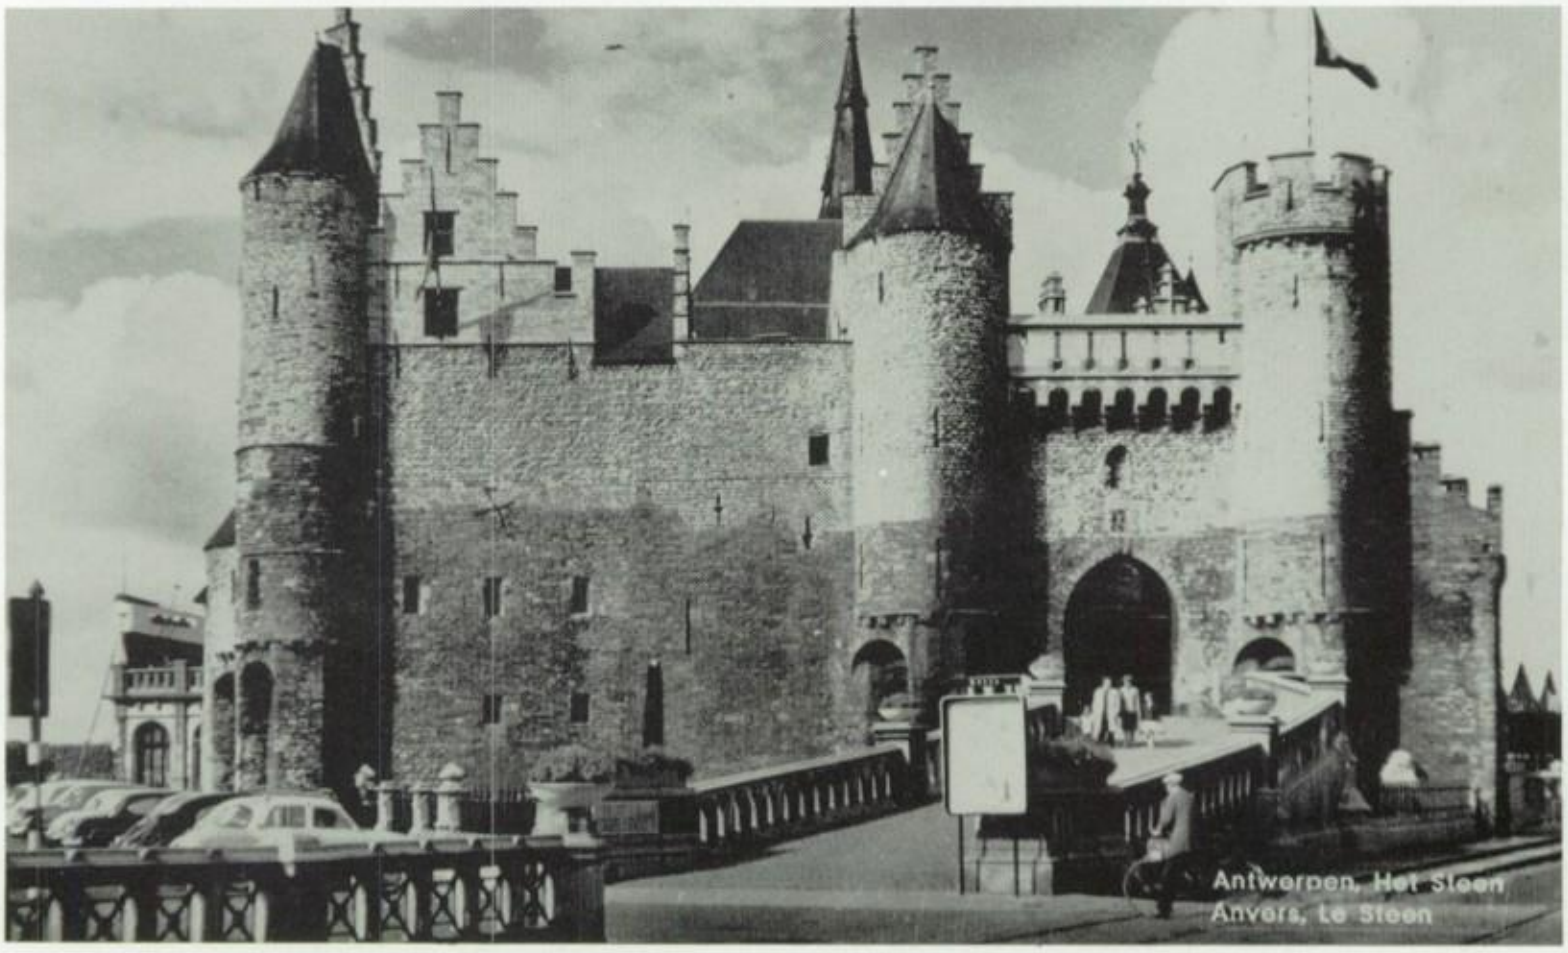
Herman Noels, foreign exchange student from Antwerp, Belgium.



Relics of the past mark the land: the Castle Steen, Antwerp.

No wonder the Senior Class voted Herman Noels "Best All-Around Personality": his congeniality and sense of humor brightened many a day for his fellow students. One might think that, as the eighth of ten children, Herman would feel acutely the absence of his brothers and sisters, but he reports that he found ASB president Rufus Hubler a wonderful substitute brother.

Herman said that Nordhoff was quite different from the private boys' school he had attended in Antwerp, and he came to appreciate the informality and close teacher-pupil relationship here.

A seasoned traveler, having bicycled through Europe with a student group in 1962, Herman hopes one day to come back to the United States. Before leaving for his native Belgium in June he indicated that he planned to attend Louvain University there and major in Teutonic languages.

Kooky, no? (Mrs. Milroy, Mr. Brown, Mr. Rustin).

A major AFS activity in '63-'64 was the creation of an AFS lawn. Conceived and planned with the encouragement of the club's advisor, Mr. Howard Landon, the lawn idea soon had the enthusiastic support of other Nordoffians. President Leslie LaRue appointed a special committee to draft a plan to be submitted to the student Council for approval. After the Council approved the preliminary draft, grass was planted opposited the snack area. In March the group sponsored a hootenanny to raise money for flagpoles for the lawn. It is intended that eventually the poles will fly the flags of all the nations from which exchange students will have come to Nordhoff.

The club was active in other areas: in October, Ojai hosted a county gathering of exchange students. Nordhoff's AFS'ers presented an assembly featuring the varied talents among the guests. In February the club proudly saw junior Carol Knicely accepted as an exchange student to Brazil, where she will remain until January, 1965.

Welcoming the foreign exchange students staying in a community is always the most important function of an AFS group, and it was the club's pleasure to try to make the visit of Elizabetta Zuanelli of Italy and Herman Noels of Belgium to our country and school a happy one.

Debate, one of the more intellectual sports at Nordhoff, has occupied the attention of an intensely active group. Since its inception, the debate team has developed its potential to a surprising degree. Coached by Mr. Don Stenger, and competing as a novice for the first time in a tournament sponsored by the Southern California Debate League, November 16, at Notre Dame High School, Los Angeles, the team captured third-place honors from a field of thirty-five schools in the area. Nordhoff once again took third place with only two of its teams competing at John Marshall High School, Central Los Angeles, in December. One of the hardest tournaments they have entered to date, the First State Qualifying Rounds, held at the University of Southern California, January 3 and 4, offered them their stiffest competition; even there the Nordhoff squad managed to take eighth place.

Then the real climb came. At the second SCL Novice tournament, which incorporated speech contest points with debate in calculating sweepstakes points, and held February 29 at North Hollywood High School, the team took first place and proudly sports the trophy it won. And as though this were not enough, on March 6, at Polytechnic High School, San Fernando, the team entered the Open Tournament, which combined two leagues, the SCDL Valley League and the Foothill League. In total competition the debaters from Nordhoff finished third, and in their league, took first. Again on March 22 in the Second State Qualifying tournament, in the non-NFL division, the debaters took second place.

Mr. Stenger and every member of the team is looking forward eagerly to bettering this already-enviable record in the coming season.

Supported by Dean Maxine Tempske, Nordhoff girls formed a Girls' Advisory Board early in the year. Reflecting the various attitudes of typical high school girls, the Board, advised by Miss Polly Powell, dealt with the special problems encountered in school life.

The girls elected two representatives from each class to serve on the council. At the weekly meetings, presided over by chairman Mary Nelson, the Board debated desirable standards of appearance and conduct. It informed the student body of its discussions on issues of current interest. Question boxes were provided in girls' P.E. classes and questions submitted by members of Nordhoff's fairer sex were considered and reported upon by the Board.

Several special girls' assemblies were called throughout the year.

Although the purpose of the Girls' Advisory Board is to suggest, and not to impose rules and regulations, the work of the group is aimed at improving the appearance and conduct-standards of Nordhoff High School girls.

JUST US FOLKS

Folk music came in for attention at Nordhoff, as it did throughout the nation. Student interest led to the formation of a folksinging club this year.

Several members presented songs at a number of rallies and assemblies and were enthusiastically received by the student body. Mr. Earl Owen was the group's advisor.

Though small in number, the Future Homemakers of America have proved themselves spirited and vigorous.

The club, led by Marilyn Tannar, kicked-off the year's activities with the annual initiations during Homecoming Week. Those initiated into the club sported kitchen utensils around campus and at the Homecoming game.

The projects of the FHA'ers kept them very busy: sale of candies, apples and cookies at the football games, and preparation of tray favors for the Ojai Valley Community Hospital were two of them. In late February the Club and G.A.A. co-sponsored the annual fashion show. March saw the girls off to Disneyland with the Letterwomen, and subsequently on an ice skating trip.

Various members attended the state-wide convention at Asilomar in October, and the section meetings at U.C.S.B. and Cal Poly later in the year.

June topped things off, bringing the formal and impressive installation of officers.

As in the past two years, our Health Coordinator, Mrs. Maureen Waggoner, guided the Future Nurses of America through an eventful year. The purpose of the organization is to give those girls interested in a nursing career a preview of the job, and to develop in its members the qualities essential to the profession.

December saw the girls sponsoring a bake-sale, the funds of which were used to buy bandage materials. The months spent preparing pillows were climaxed —no, not with a pillow fight, but with a journey to Ventura County General Hospital where, after witnessing an operation, the members presented their handiwork to the hospital.

Later trips consisted of visits to Knapp Nursing School in Santa Barbara, and Camarillo State Hospital, and, in addition, the F.N.A.'ers learned many useful tricks of the trade, such as how to record temperatures and pulse rates accurately, and how to make up hospital beds neatly and quickly.

The present membership is made up of juniors Harry Sperry (team captain), Mike Vantine, Jim Geisler, Ed Haskell, Rusty Shelton, Linda Roberson, and sophomore Lloyd Williams.

During the first semester a sixth period presentation of cuttings was presented to the student body in the auditorium; most prominent among them was the Witches' Scene from Macbeth, featuring John Gearhart, Kathy Killian, Johnny Kertcher, and Noreen Proctor.

GOVERNMENT LEADERS ADDRESS ASSEMBLIES

This year Nordhoff has been treated to a number of interesting and informative assemblies. Featured were prominent figures in city, county and national government. The assemblies were sponsored by Mr. Stan Brown, the speakers having been invited to speak to his United States Government classes. The series proved of such interest that many other classes attended.

First among the guests was Ojai Chief of Police James Alcorn, who spoke in December. The second and third assemblies were held in January. The speakers? Mr. Robert Hamm, Ventura County Clerk and Recorder, and the Honorable Charles M. Teague, Representative to Congress from the 13th District. In February, Mr. Kenneth MacDonald, Ventura County Supervisor, addressed the students on various county problems.

Skill in athletics, sportsman-like deportment, and co-operation are qualifications necessary for membership in the Varsity Club.

Under the supervision of advisor Mr. Fred Linkenhelt, the members sold programs, and supplied the manpower needed to carry the chains and markers at football games. Their main contribution to campus activities this year, however, was the rejuvenation of the parking lot—accomplished by painting lines and numbers, and furnishing corresponding stickers for the cars.

By way of recreation the club made an excursion to the U.C.L.A.-U.S.C. football game finishing off the outing with a tour of Helms Athletic Hall; they also saw the Lakers play basketball in January, and in April they took in the Dodgers.

It's the height of every girl's ambition to be a member of the Letterwomen's Club, for this service organization is known for its high standards of character and athletic proficiency. To become eligible for her sweater a coed must first accumulate 1,000 points, then go through a rigorous initiation program, involving a 500 word essay on "Why I want to Become a Letterwoman," before admission to the club.

The newly adopted point system, which assigns 90 points to a minor sport, 85 points to participation in any one of four main sports, 120 points to B team and 130 to A team membership, will make it possible to obtain a letter sooner. Extra points may be added by being chosen captain or outstanding player on an A or B team, or by participating in various service projects. Each chevron on the sweater represents an additional 300 points, and it is possible to earn as many as three of these chevrons.

Besides selling tickets for football and basketball games and decorating the goal posts, the members of this club can be found cleaning out the trophy case, decorating for dances, or plotting one of their notorious initiations.

This year a G.A.A. Court was initiated, on a trial basis, with Letterwomen presiding as judges. They listened knowingly to the excuses of those who missed meetings and took appropriate action. Liz Zuanelli, A.F.S. Exchange student, was received as an honorary member of the club and awarded a sweater with one chevron.

Capping an active year, the club sponsored a fund-raising car wash and, as is customary, joined the Lettermen in selecting the football royalty for the Christmas Formal.

Harpooners: ready for action!

The largest and perhaps most popular club (with the girls, anyway), the Girls Athletic Association, strives to provide an all around sports program outside P.E. classes which will help develop participation-skill and a sense of fair play. Under the direction of the club's officers, Zandra Stroud, president, Pam McKee, vice president, Vicki Stafford, secretary, Sandi Geisler, treasurer, Sandra Asp, point secretary, Bonnie Marek, her assistant, and Toni Hall, senior representative, the club showed initiative and creativity in numerous activities throughout the year.

The annual GAA-sponsored Backward Dance was greeted with great enthusiasm. The theme "Polynesian Paradise" was carried out with intriguing, varied decorations: a Sugar Shack, tropical plants, waterfalls, colored lighting, and a huge fish net draped above the entire dance floor.

Thanksgiving saw the purchase of a turkey dinner for four needy families, and December found the club again helping people. This time it sponsored a Marine Corp Stamp Drive. The winning class, which happened to be the Seniors, received the Service Award plaque.

"Swing into Spring" perfectly describes the lilting theme of the annual GAA-FHA fashion show. With five stores and some forty-two models participating, the show this year proved more successful than ever. A simulated stained glass window formed the backdrop for the presentation and was set off by a waterfall and numerous plants. Everything from modeling to commentary was professionally done.

The club's advisors, Miss Polly Powell and Mrs. Sharon Berg, supervised the annual playdays.

Toward the end of the year an installation banquet, honoring newly elected officers, was held.

"Just wait, gang—if that gopher comes out once more, I'll get him for sure!" rasps Sharon Clark as Karen Charlesworth, Zandra Stroud, and Heidi Holt look on admiringly.

Homecoming! And Nobody,

Hi, kid! (Senior Princess Mary Nelson).

Bon Voyage, Marsha. (Junior Princess Marsha Garner).

WE WON!! Nordhoff really got on the ball for the November 9 Homecoming game. Though the stands were sparsely populated during the J-V stint, as the afternoon wore on our spirit grew and grew until the bleachers were a mass of yelling, cheering Nordhoffians. The day was hot, perfect for victory and the Junior Varsity provided just that—7 to 0 over Santa Ynez. While the Varsity team filed onto the field, the band played and the stands rocked with applause and cheers. With such spirit we couldn't lose! By halftime the score stood 13-6 in our favor and out marched the band playing a tribute to the Rangers. The gates opened and the Homecoming parade was on. Prancing at the head of the show came those two charming mascoteers, Kathy Killian and Diane Timms, in the get-up of Joe Ranger's unwinged Pegasus. Next, Varsity cheerleaders Leah Edde, Vickie Morrow and Sandra Stiefel flashed by and, succeeding them, a row of shiny convertibles transporting our lovely Homecoming royalty: Sophomore Princess Julie Wollerman led the way followed by Junior Princess Marsha Garner and Senior Princess Mary Nelson while Homecoming Queen Brenda Marshall graciously completed the procession. Julie was crowned by Steve Crossen, Marsha by Butch Smith, Mary by Gary Means and Brenda by John Gearhart.

The floats, pastel clouds of fluff, sailed softly around the track. Leading off, the seniors showed their large brown pyramid bearing Cleopatra and Joe Ranger. A shipwreck float followed, the contribution of the Varsity Club. Yet another ship bore foreign exchange students Herman Noels and Liz Zuanelli, pride of the A.F.S. The star of the show, however, was the Junior float. Set up on a large flat-bed truck, each of its several sections represented a different foreign country. Obviously a great deal of work had gone into this creation, and the Juniors were elated that their float copped first place.

"David, we've run out of gas, and you're gonna have to get out and push!" exclaims sophomore Pam Eastburn to David Gilman.

Glory-Hounds to Glory Bound

Comes a glow of satisfaction when the job is done.

Happiness is a warm guppy. Barf! And happiness is also journalism—heh, heh, heh. Unfortunately the happy, exciting, creative moments are frequently balanced by the exacting demands of the course. Today Marie Bringas and Kathie Killian come in with only the promise of a walloping ad for the Topa Topa (having forgotten somehow to take along the contract forms), and tomorrow lament, "They changed their minds!"

Frank Delano follows Herr Blakely around as closely as a sea puppy his paw. Result? Hundreds of glossy prints for the ocean-bound Topa Topa. There were risks, however, for the film that was shot in the raw sea breeze suffered from overexposure.

Editors Katy Hamlett, Kristin Hensel, Janet Van Horne and Pam McKee did get the monthly Ranger Record out. And a magnificent production it was; almost. But at what a cost! Missing days of classes, putting little chicken scratches all over galley proofs, laboriously reading copy, and writing—endless writing. Ah me!

Carol Gathercole, Janet Van Horne, Frank DeLano, Kathi Howard, Frank Campanaro, Craig Walker and Rex Meach envisioned the Topa's arrival long before it was due, perhaps as result of spending Christmas and Easter vacations not at Newport Beach but loyally working on the thing.

(Cribbing again, eh?)
Busy editors Janet Van Horne, Katy Hamlett, Kristin Hensel and Larry Kennedy evaluate exchange papers.

Donna Reed and Linda Roberson found fulfillment in their own private little masterpiece: The Clive. (Present tense of clove? 'Twas spicy.) There were tribulations, there were handicaps: it took a computer to solve that justified right hand margin.

And so the year passed: a sea-saw of perpetual motion, like the rise and fall of the waves—happiness, then disappointment. But at the end of the cycle happiness reigns supreme: the Ranger Record appeared regularly; the Topa Topa arrives on time, and it's vacation till next September, when the ship sets sail again.

Susan Wendahl and Sunnie Mowbray compare notes on feature article: Phil Moynier works in the background.

Sunny (?) Sibyl.

21-GUN SALUTE FOR MR. BLAKELY: 10 Years on the Button

Lights! Camera! Mrs. Blakely puts the squeeze on Mr. B.: "Say cheese, dear."

(Who said Whistler didn't have a father?)

("That's a hull of a thing to say about a sailor," retorts Mr. Blakely gruffly.)

With ship in drydock at Nordhoff High for year-end repairs, jolly tars gathered in the foc'sle to honor Mr. Warren G. Blakely for his ten years' tour of duty as official photographer aboard the good ship Topa Topa.

At the shindig the veteran lensman reminisced affably about the days when he first gained his sea legs while crew members pulled vigorously on the saltwater taffy. A rousing time was had by one and all; unfortunately the party was broken up by the Shore Patrol. However, after two-and-a-half months of shore-leave theilr bored spirits picked up exuberantly at the prospect of once again putting out to sea.

The unsung heroes in any organization are those who do a great deal of work and receive no credit.

What would we do without the office assistants who run around collecting attendance slips and delivering forgotten lunches? Or imagine groping blindly through the library without the help of the library assistants who slave diligently to master the Dewey Decimal System. And how about the P.E. assistants who have to cope with the wild gym classes—chasing stray equipment and leading exercises? By no means least on our list are the patient cafeteria and snack helpers, who spend their breaks assisting in the kitchen. Without such helpers our appetites would surely go unsatisfied.

So to all these individuals, our thanks and appreciation go out for doing their jobs so quietly and efficiently.

Flood Tide

The sun was shining on the sea, shining

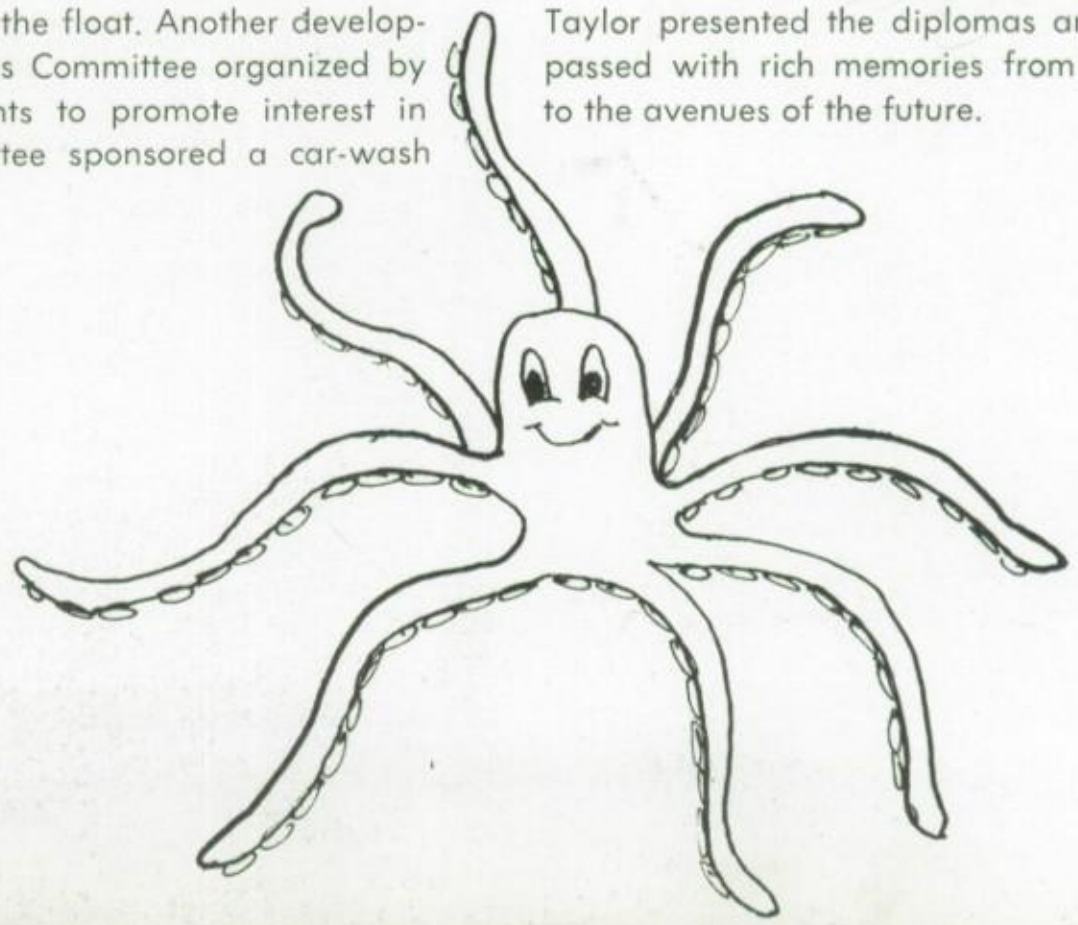
It has been a year of excitement and fulfillment for the class of '64. Presiding at meetings was class president Bob Patterson, vigorously assisted by Vice President Jim Christianson. Secretary-Treasurer Diana McDonald faithfully attended to finances and other official business while Mary Nelson represented Senior Class interests at Student Council meetings. As class advisors, Messrs. James Castren and Earl Owen offered helpful advice and official backing.

Class activities this year were diversified. For the Homecoming parade the seniors contributed a float based on the theme "Joe Ranger of Egypt." It may seem funny to think of Joe riding backwards on a camel but . . . "If Napoleon could do it so can we" was the hue and cry: "ON TO VICTORY!" "Victory came late this year; As a matter of fact it didn't come at all-for the seniors, that is. Nevertheless, class members did have a wonderful time working on the float. Another development was the Senior Activities Committee organized by a group of energetic students to promote interest in senior projects. The Committee sponsored a car-wash in April to earn money for the Senior Party.

Mimicking teachers, spoofing Nordhoff tradition and just having fun in general was all part of the Senior Class Day as Nordhoff's senior citizens strutted their stuff. Then when the class assembled to sing the traditional "Halls of Ivy," tears fell as the near alumni realized that all too soon they would be going their separate ways, their comradeship in work and play largely a memory.

The highlight of the year was the All-Night Party at Disneyland. After six hours of fun, rides, and sightseeing the exhausted group had an early breakfast and adjourned to the beach for a day of sun and sleep.

Finally, D Day; no laughter now, just slow marching, and rather solemn handshaking: The realization that one way of life is ending and a new one beginning filled the minds and hearts of the graduating class. Principal John Taylor presented the diplomas and the seniors of 1964 passed with rich memories from the halls of Nordhoff to the avenues of the future.



...with all his might:

Resting in thoughtful repose
The sea contemplates life,
Then with visible effort
Rises and rushes forward again.

TOPA TOPA RESTAURANT
133 E. Ojai Avenue
646-1552

Gossipers Gary Desgagnes, Bob Larkins and Mike Van Winkle enjoy a cup of coffee together at the Topa Topa Restaurant.

Those male Cinderellas, Rick Kingsbury, Rufus Hubler, Bill Hayes and Bob Patterson, are transformed into handsome hunks of masculinity through the magic of clothes from COLE'S, 302 E. Ojai Avenue. 646-1590.

Fledgling journalists Frank DeLano and Janet Van Horne are given pointers on the journalistic art by no less than the boss-man himself, Mr. Fred Volz, civic-minded publisher of the OJAI VALLEY NEWS & NEWS ADVERTISER, 1016 W. Ojai Avenue. 646-1476.

Gettin' a proper eddication about horses an' things are Toni Hall and Sandi Stiefel at THE FEED BARN, 114 S. Montgomery. 646-4581.

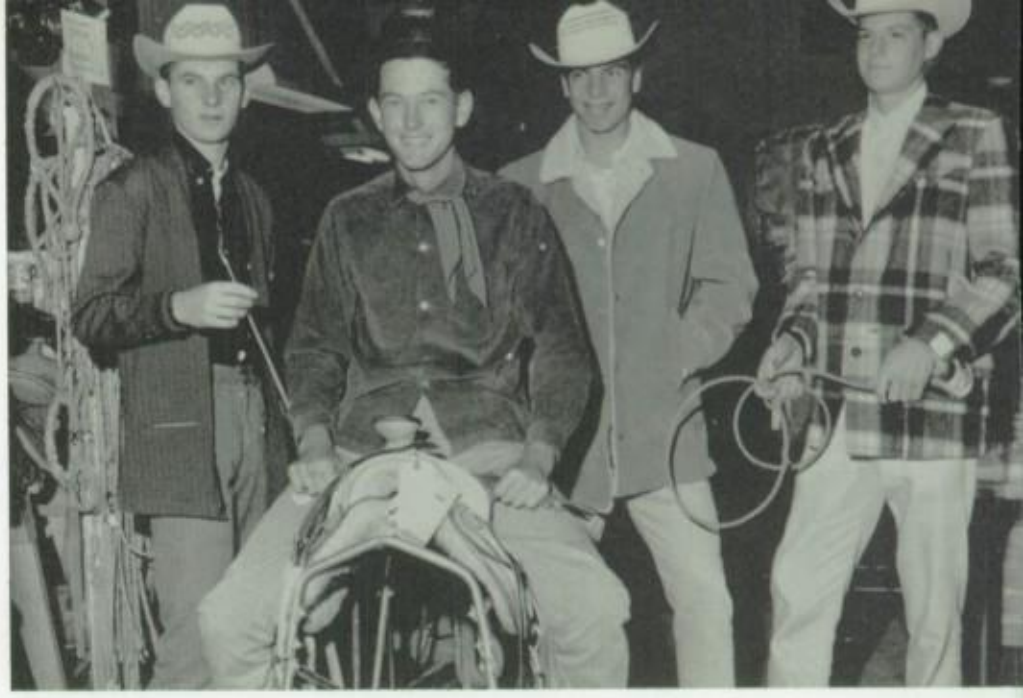
Tickled pink over the stylish footware at ROBERT'S FAMILY SHOES, 1123 Maricopa Road, are Leslie LaRue, Virginia Christensen, Sandy Asp and Judi Hodge. 646-4437.

What one of those Martian get-ups won't do for one at the ARCADE BEAUTY SALON isn't worth mentioning, as Diane Brown, Beverly Hillegeist and Joyce Stilts are seen here in the process of finding out. For an appointment stop in at 312 E. Ojai Avenue or call 646-2759.



Local badmen Dude Kennedy, Sneering Stevens, and Sly Sloan have captured "Laughs" Lawson at ED BENTON'S SADDLESHOP, 219 E. Matilija. 646-5130.

Looking for the perfect gift? Jeanannette Poulis and Diane McDonald know where to find it—OJAI GIFT & STATIONERS, 250 E. Ojai Avenue. 646-2527.

Bachelors Danny Cole, Herman Noels, Selby Smith and Steve Loughman stock up on artichokes and—oops, who put that dogfood in the basket? It's all this and lots more too at TOBEY'S SUPERMARKET, 235 E. Matilija Street. 646-3491.

Nancy Nelson, Suzanne Orm, Becky Kostyal and Karen Charlesworth demonstrate their good taste as they model the fine clothes from FITZGERALD's, 238 E. Ojai Avenue. 646-1915.

It was the sparkle of diamonds and other pretty things that brought Lorenda Austin, Linda Pike and Judy Wilber to JOHNSON'S JEWELERS, 206 E. Ojai Avenue. 646-4451.

BLAKELY'S PHOTOGRAPHY

254 E. Ojai Avenue

646-2771

Mrs. Nickerson demonstrates the new 100 POLAROID LAND CAMERA to enthusiasts Ed Randolph, Dan Blankenship, and Joe Weaver at Blakely's Photography. (Recognize the Nordhoff alumna Jackie Fortier in the picture on the wall?)

TOPA LANES

1202 E. Ojai Avenue

646-1457

"Heave Ho; dig that form!" Don Sulgrove and Charwyn Todd show off while Kim Booth, Mike Brunette, Kathy Killiam, Johnnie Kertcher, Susan Garriga and Noreen Procter look on with interest.

BAYLESS MARKET

236 W. Ojai Avenue

646-4082

It's under the spreading oak tree that the Bayless Market stands, with Mr. Bayless, several employees, and three of its senior fans —Gary Cuccio, Gary Means, and Cheryl Kellogg.

JIM HALL PLUMBING

501 La Luna

646-3435

"Fascinating, just fascinating. Wonder what it is?" mumbles Jack Todd as Dennis James, Tyler Sandberg, and Jim Chase find their interest taken up with other items on Jim Hall's Service Truck.

You can get more things than you can think of at WESTERN AUTO, 337 E. Ojai Avenue. Kathy Jansen and Gloria Niehbuhr are shown a beautiful hi-fi console by Mrs. Dueysen and assistant, Robert Dueysen. 646-4807.

Flower arrangers Karen Kilbourne, Karen Taylor, and Beverly Tyler practice their art with some of the beauties available at the FLOWER BOX, 402 N. Montgomery Street. 646-1543.

"You get more to your liking in refreshment at the O-HI FROSTIE, 214 W. Ojai Avenue," say Nola Garner and Sharon Wright. 646-1923.

Between the ooh-ing and ah-ing of Carol Shirley and Barbara Lewis over the ceramics at the VILLAGE DRUG STORE, David Glazer just can't get a word in edgewise. And that is something. 202 E. Ojai Avenue. 646-1426.

Caren ties what Kristin tries and they, together with the smart jumper set, model a good-looking trio of outfits—the kind always found at RAINS DEPARTMENT STORE, 218 E. Ojai Avenue. 646-1441.

Man, this is service! Ken Hale, Scott Peddicord, Joe Kielty and Joel St. Clair show how a car is pampered at MILLER'S AUTO SERVICE, 201 N. Signal. 646-1640.

Paint heisters Cheryl Cornell and Judy Sandberg pose with the loot at the OJAI LUMBER COMPANY's paint counter—only one of a full range of building supplies to be found at 1900 E. Ojai Avenue. 646-1419.

Gettin' the works are Mike Manzer and Alton Evans at the Y BARBER SHOP, 1107 Maricopa Road. 646-9194.

"Let's see, Coral Crunch and Catfish steak . . . " Jean Boggs checks her list at the MIRA MONTE MARKET, 11496 N. Ventura Avenue, as Carolyn Beck and Altha Akins look over some of the less exotic staples among the many varieties available there. 646-4603.

Lunch break at the HITCHING POST DRIVE-IN, 535 E. Ojai Avenue, is the unanimous choice of Rob Hoffman, Fred Brue, Sammy Vail, and Lynn Gardner as Fred grins his order in. 646-1527.

There's more than gold in those fish-bowls, gals—you, too, may be a beauty-winner, like Chris Glazer. Sandy Carter looks a little dubious, but if it can be done Carmelita can do it. CARMELITA'S BEAUTY FASHIONS, 106 N. Signal. 646-5200.

Linda Jones and Joanne Huber envy the latest mohair yarn while Barbara Watson looks over the numerous other knitting materials to be found at the OJAI YARN SHOP, 102 N. Signal. 646-3915.

OJAI BAKERY

457 E. Ojai Avenue

646-1558

What could be more heavenly to teen-agers than to be stranded in a bakery chock-full of such things as these? (Katy Shaffer, Fred Core, and Jan Farnsworth.)

OJAI TIRE SERVICE

308 S. Fulton Street

646-1178

It's a bit early for re-tiring isn't it, boys? "No sirree," retort John Lafean and Tom Evans, "this is fun." It's good looking, too, judging from the example modeled by Leah Edde and Paula Farrar.

ROYAL OAKS DAIRY FARM

Creek Road

646-1573

Seniors Mary Nelson, Sharon Clark, Kathie Howard, Mark Hall and Frank DeLano are really intrigued by their young friend, Esmerelda, out where moo means milk.

TOM MAHON CHEVROLET

423 E. Ojai Avenue

646-1494

"Let's not all smile at once, kids." Kathy Killian, Diane Timms and Pam McKee dream about what they would do with the new 1964 Chevrolet, while Ken Williams and Stan Myers are more interested in what it will do.

Fresh produce isn't all that's carried by the OJAI FROZEN FOOD LOCKERS. Not by a long shot. So Jeannie Rose and Bonnie Marek can keep right on selecting from the many other foods for those scrumptious meals they're planning. 802 E. Ojai Avenue. 646-2762.

Surrounded by the unusual and practical items at DOUG JORDAN'S SPORTING GOODS, PET, AND PATIO SUPPLIES, 242 E. Ojai Avenue, Jo Standley, Glenda Rust, Betsy Sutherland, and Cheryl Loughman have a chat over guava juice cocktails. 646-1273.

Keeping girls at their prettiest is one of the main jobs of the OJAI PHARMACY, 328 E. Ojai Avenue. Vicki Morrow and Brenda Marshall demonstrate. 646-1503.

Lady truck driver Kristin Hensel prepares to drag some unfortunate out of a ditch as Bob Lampson thanks the stars he's not that unfortunate. Mr. Shaw prays for the return of truck (it's way too late now to take out more insurance). CENTRAL GARAGE & MACHINE SHOP, 111 W. Topa Topa. 646-1591

"Oh I like myself; I like the looks of me!" smile Joanne Wickline and Jeannie Boggs at the HUB as they model what you see. 2757 E. Main, Ventura. 643-3424.

"Greg Pratt's soft sell is simply breathtaking," says Sharon Clark as she samples the chairs. Janet Sparks and Judy Campanaro are more reserved—they're interested in other wares at CALLENDER'S FURNITURE, 215 E. Matilija. 646-2637.

Advisor

It is not without a twinge of regret that the yearbook staff presents the 1964 Topa Topa. Our "problem child" has at last been delivered, and we realize in retrospect that we wouldn't have wanted to miss a moment of it, even though we often complained. Now we can take time to express our appreciation to the many individuals without whose help our task would have been impossible.

The greatest measure of credit is due to our advisor, Mrs. Martha Llwellyn. Her insistence upon high standards of photography, layout, and copy spurred us to our best efforts. She co-ordinated the many facets of yearbook production and managed to untangle the various problems we encountered.

The staff is grateful to The Blakely Photographic Studio for most of the fine photographs included in this volume. To Mr. Josef Muench go our thanks for the lovely seascape used on the endsheets.

Our patrons and advertisers generously supported the 1964 Topa Topa. Besides providing the financial assistance needed to produce the annual, they demonstrated an interest in Nordhoff and an eagerness to make this year's yearbook a successful one. We know that you will benefit yourself, and return the favor at the same time if you tell our advertisers by word of mouth that you saw, and, by means of your purchases, that you appreciated their advertisement in the Nordhoff yearbook.

We are indebted to the Taylor Publishing Company for their fine craftsmanship and especially to their representative, Mr. Viga B. Hall.

Finally, speaking now to the faculty and student body, we wish to thank you for your support and cooperation. This is your book, about you and for you. The staff's effort during this past year have been devoted to providing you with a permanent pictorial remembrance. May this record of the 1963-1964 year at Nordhoff bring you a continuing pleasure.

Bon Voyage

It seemed as though every Nordhoffian had sprouted a guitar as folksinging and hootenannies enjoyed a revival of interest at the school in 1963-1964. Although locally the Raiders remained our favorite band, we listened to the "yeah, yeah, yeah" sound of the "Beatles," the British rock and roll combo from Liverpool. There were Beatle wigs, Beatle dances, Beatle sweatshirts—Beatle everything! The fairer sex adopted stacked heels, the Empire look, saddle oxfords, knee socks, and black tinted nylons. Although our boys looked askance at the new lapelless coats, Pendleton shirts and blue gummies were the style.

None of us shall forget November 22, 1963, the day President John F. Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas, Texas. Nordhoff observed a day of mourning for the late president. Soon it no longer sounded strange to hear, "President Lyndon B. Johnson." This was the year of several military juntas in Viet Nam, the wheat sale to Russia, a government tax cut, and recognition of Red China by France. Congress began debate over the controversial Civil Rights Bill.

The new Ventura County Marina was completed and opened. Nordhoff's Rockhounds won third place in the club division of the County Fair Parade in October. Former Nordhoffian Kathy Lenski performed as a soloist with the County Orchestra.

Ojai Valley saw the spring Music Festival, the annual Tennis Tournament, and the Ojai Folk Dance Festival. As we look back on the 1963-1964 year, we find that it has been eventful internationally, nationally, and locally.

Mike -
I've sure had fun playing sports with and against you all through Junior High & H.S. I hope we will always be friends and I hope we will always remember each other. You are a real great guy who deserves the best of luck in the years to come.
